

My name is Bienzi Matondo Pater and I am director of Surtek Trading SAS. We specialize in the supply of raw materials and we sell industrial equipment for the manufacturing, construction and mining industries.

My experience in the field of raw materials and industrial equipment is more than 8 years, over this time I have gained valuable expertise and knowledge, but I never stop learning - after all, the development of the market today moves so quickly and sometimes unpredictably that ignoring innovations, changes and market trends means be out of the market.

Our young and ambitious team sincerely shares my position, and one of the key priorities in our work is the constant search for new solutions. Communication with our clients is especially important and valuable in this regard. A sincere interest in studying the goods that we help to deliver is not a simple curiosity, but the most important condition for the successful solution of the logistics problems of our numerous clients.

My colleagues and I are convinced that only cooperation based on the principles of dialogue, simplicity and transparency has the highest chances of bringing partners mutual benefit and moral satisfaction. Therefore, we are sincerely interested in all the needs of our clients, we try to come up with the most optimal solutions, and we are very happy when the result of our work is the development of our partners' business.

Surtek Trading SAS has many plans ahead. They are associated with the familiarization of new types of equipment, the expansion of the geography of supplies. The more high-quality equipment we will supply to underground mining and production facilities, the more efficient the industry as a whole will be. And we are ready to contribute to the solution of this ambitious task.
